What a Democrat Learned While Urging Postmaster Thompson's Removal -Turpie Attacks Judge Woods.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 .- Postmastergeneral Bissell to-day corroborated the statements made in a Journal special the other day that President Cleveland had placed Senator Turple "on the list" for having voted against the Hornblower nomination, and that he would not heed the Indianapolis Senator's recommedations for office. A Democratic Congressman from Indiana to-day urged Mr. Bissell to implore the President to remove Postmaster Thompson. He said the Democrats at the Hoosier capital were considerably vexed because a Republican was kept in the postoffice, and that if Postmaster Thompson was not removed within a short time it would be impossible to secure a Democratic organization in Marion county. He pointed out the demoralizing effects which the retention of a Republican in a conspicuous office would have upon Democrats, and said that it would not be sufficient to make the removal during the heat of the Postmaster-general Bissell, at the conclusion of the importunities of the Hoosier Congressman, replied that it was no use to ask President Cleveland to remove Postmaster Thompson for any purpose until conditions changed. He said the President was much put out at Senator Turple for having joined in the majority report of the Senate judiciary committee in favor of the rejection of the Hornblower nomination, and for having given his support to the rejection in executive session of the Senate. Mr. Bissell said that the President did not feel that Senator Turple had any right to demand action on the Indianapolis postmastership.

campaign next fall; that it should be done

Mr. Bissell then gave out a little bit of news. He stated that the Indianapolis postmastership was regarded as the legitimate and sole patronage of Senator Turpie; that the office was located at the Senstor's home, and, although it was also the home of Representative Bynum, the office had long since been credited to the Senator under existing circumstances; that Senator Voorhees had been permitted to control the office in his home city (Terre Haute), and by common courtesy Senator Turple must be permitted to dictate the nomination for the Indianapolis postmastership. Having offended the President by antagonisms in the Senate, Mr. Turpie could not now push his claim for a change in the office, and, in the opinion of the Postmaster-general, there would be no change until the conditions change. The Postmastergeneral verified all of the statements made the other day by a Journal special upon this point, showing that Turple and Cleve-land are now at "outs."

TURPIE VENTS HIS SPITE.

Contemptible Attack on Judge Woods -Agreement on the Election Bill. WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 .- The Senate has named a day when the final vote is to be taken on the bill repealing the federal eleclaw. After another long colto-day between Senators Grav and Chandler, the Republicans congeneral debate that the measure should close next Tuesday at 4 p. m. After that hour amendments may be presented and passed upon, but the final vote must be taken before the adjournment of the Senate on that day.

When the Senate met this morning a petition, alleged to represent ten thousand wool growers of California, irrespective of political party, praying against a reduc-tion of the duty on wool, was presented by Mr. Perkins. Senator Washburn presented a petition of six thousand citizens of St. Louis county, Minnesota, protesting against putting iron ore on the free list. The bond question was then discussed, as reported elsewhere, after which the agreement to close the debate on the election bill was entered into. Senator Chandler introduced two amendments to the repeal bill, the first providing that the flag of the United States and the words: "For Representative in Congress," should stamped, under penalty, on every box for congressional ballots in the elections in the States, and the second amendment requiring election judges to make up and publicly declare the result of the congressional election in their precincts immediately after the close of the poll.

Senator Turple said that under the operations and partisan advantages of the federal election law the chambers of a cer-tain United States judge in Indiana "upon the recurrence of every political campaign becomes the headquarters for the managers and the administration of the political party to which he is allied. This judge (Judge Woods) earns his salary by midnight council in the judge's chambers pre-vious to election. His chief employment and that which calls into action the whole faculties of his mind is how to make appointments of supervisors and marshals in different counties to decrease Democratic votes and to increase the Republican vote.' At 3:40 p. m., on motion of Senator Gorman, the Senate went into executive session, and at 4:10 p. m. adjourned until to-

THE HAWAHAN INQUIRY.

Dr. Brown Says Blount Lied-Mr. Reader Tells His Story.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 .- Dr. W. S. Bowen, of the New York World, was before the Senate Hawaiian investigating committee yesterday. Dr. Bowen arrived at Honolulu on the day after Commissioner Blount landed there, in company with Harry M. Sewall. Mr. Blount represented that Dr. Bowen and Mr. Sewall attempted to arrange a settlement between President Dole and Queen Liliuokalani, whereby the latter was to abdicate the throne for a consideration of $20,000 a year. Dr. Bowen denied explicitly that he in any way represented the government of the United States, and said that Mr. Blount had been guilty of willful misrepresentation

P. W. Reader, a zealous defender of the Blount and the administration, was before committee. Mr. Reader is a citizen of the United States and a resident of Cedar Rapids, la. He was in Honolulu at the time of the revolution, and had been there several weeks before, making a study of the islands and institutions. Replying to a question as to whether American lives and property were not in jeopardy when the marines were landed from the Boston, be declared that no such condition existed. He said that the Sunday after the Queen had made on Saturday her unsuccessful attempt to change the Constitution was as quiet as any other Sabbath on the islands. The children played in the streets and people went about their business as if nothing unusual had happened or was expected to happen. There were occasional squads of men dis-cussing the situation, but there did not appear to be any excitment. There were no armed men on the streets until the troops from the Boston landed.

Mr. Reader also failed to see any excuse for the declaration of the American protectorate over the islands, except for the purpose of preserving the Dole government. He declared that the natives preferred a native government, and as the voters among them numbered about twelve to one white he was of opinion that they should control. He did not think, however, that after the effort to subvert the Constitution the Queen should have been permitted to continue her reign, but that she should have been arrested and punished and her niece raised to the throne. Instead, how-ever, of laying the ills of the Queen and preceding monarchs at their door, he charged them to the Americans who were their advisers and who were substantially the same class of Americans who now have charge of the government. They were grasping, money-getting, unscrupulous set, and they would continue to run the government for their own interest in the future as they had run it in the past. Mr. Reader referred to the fact that only one side of the story of the revolution had been published, and said he was sure of the fact that the provisional government had made it a crime to criticise its acts or officers. "No star chamber of the fifteenth century

He is about sixty years old, and was a colonel in the Union army during the war of the rebellion. The position for which Moonlight has been chosen is one to which C. H. J. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 30 .- To-night a mass meeting of citizens of Tippecanoe county was held here to set in motion methods for replacing the recently destroyed Heavilon memorial engineering building of Purdue University. It was a large and enthusiastic gathering. Every man present felt it was important that the buildings should be at once replaced and re-equipped. Hon. B. Wilson Smith presided. President Smart made a brief statement of the loss, which amounted to about $140,000 in excess of insurance. He said it would be absolutely necessary to have $60,000 to begin the work of rebuilding. A memorial was unanimously adopted asking the commissioners of Tippecanoe county to donate $60,000 for this purpose. Rousing speeches were made by ex-Senators Smith, Johnson, McHugh, ex-Representative Haggard, and by many leading citizens. All favored the donation. Men will start to-morrow to canvass Tippecanoe county for signatures of taxpayers, asking the commissioners to make the appropriation, which, it is estimated, will not exceed two mills on the dollar. Dr. Smart declared he would have the Heavilon shops rebuilt by Oct. 1 if the $60,000 was guaranteed. He expects $47,500 insurance. It is believed the commissioners will promptly make the appropriation on presentation of a majority of the voters of the county.

Higgins, a young lawyer, was elected president; Mr. George Buntin, private secretary to President McKeen, vice president; City Treasurer Hanck, treasurer, and H. A. Condit, secretary. "Oh, George, don't." Mr. Seymour answered by saying: "It's farewell to you now, Lama." At that he shot himself in the right temple, the bullet passing through his head. A Delaware County Boar Slays a Young Bull in a Fair Fight.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 30 .- A ferocious battle of beasts occurred a few mornings since on the farm of Samuel Pitser in Monroe township. Mr. Pitser owns a dangerous boar, with tusks several inches long. Recently the animal was in a pasture with some sheep, and for pure cussedness killed two of them. Mr. Pitser then moved the boar in another field with some cattle. The hog chased the cows, and a few mornings since, at daybreak, when the man went to his pasture to fodder the stock, he found the boar and a young bull in another part of the field engaged in mortal combat. Both animals were covered with gore and the ground was torn up for the space of an acre or more. The man soon discovered that it was a battle to the finish, and the bull looked to be getting the best of it, but the boar soon caught fresh wind and waded into his antagonist in a frightful

When the bull attempted to gore the hog the latter would "tusk" him, cutting great gashes in his neck. Mr. Pitser rushed to the house after his rifle, but while gone the hog had struck the vital spot, cutting the bull's jugular. When Pitser returned he found the boar standing over his foe tearing his flesh in shreds with his long tusks. The bull had been killed and there were forty gashes in his body. The hog had several gashes and he is in such shape that he will battle no more.

Reply of Northern Pacific Receivers Unsatisfactory to the Men.

Grand Master Sargent Summoned to St. Paul-An Appeal May Be Made to Judge Jenkins.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 30.-Grand Master Sargent, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, who arrived here tonight from New York, received a message from the chairman of the firemen's committee on the Northern Pacific road calling him to St. Paul immediately. The receivers have replied to the committee and request for a modification of the schedule, which went into effect Jan. 1, and the reply is not satisfactory. The executive officers of the six brotherhoods in the federation will meet on Thursday, when further action will be agreed upon. The probability is that the next step will be to go into Judge Jenkins's court and ask for a dissolution of the order restraining the officers of the brotherhoods from advising the men.

When asked what the policy, would be if the injunction is not dissolved, Mr. Sargent said he could not say further than that the brotherhoods did not intend to "shut up shop," though federal judges should rule against them. If a test case has to be made he said it might as well has to be made, he said, it might as well be made on the Northern Pacific as elsewhere. Mr. Harper, the legal counsel of the Brotherhood of Firemen, will go to St. Paul with Mr. Sargent. Each of the brotherhoods have legal counsel and these lawyers will take care of whatever case comes up in court. In the Union Pacific case the schedule has not yet been promulgated. When it is, the executive officers will meet and the attempt to dissolve the injunction will be made before a conference

The Union Pacific Schedule. DENVER, Col., Jan. 30.-General Counsel Thurston, of the Union Pacific railroad, this afternoon filed with Judge Hallet, in the United States Court, a copy of the new wage schedule of the Union Pacific, with a brief argument and statement of the facts which led up to action of the receivers in making out the scnedule. To a reporter Judge Thurston said, as did General Superintendent Duel yesterday, that it is not so much a reduction as it is an equalization of wages, and that the re-ceivers of the Union Pacific, as of other roads, are trying to reduce expenses as much as possible. Judge Thurston declared there was no truth in the rumor that one of the motives of the receivers was to disorganize the labor unions. When the papers were filed the representatives of the employes were on hand. Judge Croxton and counsel Gant, the Knight of Labor attorney at North Platte, have been retained to protect their interests. At their request Judge Hallet continued the hearing until is had with the receivers.

Strike of Miners.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 30.-The strike of the miners of the Panhandle district, which includes all the mines of Ohio, Brooks and Marshall counties, is now on in earnest. There were some hopes of a settlement till last night, when all efforts failed. The men met in conference and decided to offer the operators a reduction of 3 cents, and this not being accepted they proposed arbitration. The operators refused to consider this proposition unless the men would accept a cut of 9 cents a ton to begin with, which they claimed was necessary to put them on the same footing as the Pennsylvania miners. This was refused by the miners and the order was issued for all the miners to leave the mines at once. This applies to all miners, including those at Elm Grove, who have been working under an agreement between the miners' union and the operators. It is the intention of the operators to put nonunion men in the places of the strikers, and this is almost sure to cause trouble

Belleville's Steel Plant Resumes. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 20.-The Valley steel plant, at Belleville, Ill., began operations to-day with a full force of employes. men in their employ. Alleged Forger Injured.
